The Houston Police Department's Robbery Division is seeking the public's assistance in identifying a robbery suspect.

On November 10, 2007, at approximately 5:50 pm, the Victim, a loss prevention officer with Sears, located at 4000 Shepherd, observed the unknown suspect enter the store. The Victim had recognized the unknown suspect as a person that had recently stolen items from the store. The Victim observed the unknown suspect gather articles from the shelves and clothes racks and enter the men's dressing room. The Victim observed the unknown suspect exit the dressing rooms a few minutes later, empty handed.

The Victim asked a co-worker to check the dressing rooms for the articles the unknown suspect had taken in. The Victim observed the unknown suspect to exit the store without paying for any of the articles. When the Victim confronted the unknown suspect outside the store, the unknown suspect pulled a box cutter and attempted to cut the Victim. The unknown suspect ran from the location with the Victim chasing him. Whenever the Victim would get close to the unknown suspect, the unknown suspect would again pull the box cutter and threaten the Victim.

The unknown suspect ultimately dropped the items he had stolen from the store which were recovered by the Victim. The store's surveillance equipment supplied the still photos of the unknown suspect.
